Serving Bethel and neighboring communities in the mountains of western Maine

Bethel Sign Ordinance

Chamber 'welcome' banners questioned

By ALISON ALOISIO

The "Welcome to Bethel" banners that hang on utility poles on the outskirts of town last week prompted a query on whether private businesses would have the right to try to make a similar arrangement.

More than 10 years ago, the Chamber negotiated a written arrangement with the town, Central Maine Power and Oxford Networks to place welcoming banners on the utility poles on the outskirts of town, according to town officials.

Putting "signs" on utility poles is strictly forbidden by the current Bethel Sign Ordinance.

But Bethel businessmen Rick Whitney and Bob Chadbourne wondered, given the precedent, whether a private business might be allowed to negotiate to also put signs on the poles.

The issue arose when Code Enforcement Officer Jeff Warden asked the board for authorization to resume enforcing the portion of the Sign Ordinance relating to banners.

It was suspended in January while the Ordinance Review Committee proposed amendments to allow banners to be legal for use as special, temporary signs. The proposal was approved at last month's Town Meeting.

Warden said there are currently some banners at businesses that have been up on a long-term basis.

But Whitney saw the enforcement plan as potentially being uneven if the chamber banners were to be excluded.

"It sounds like [Warden is] about to start going after businesses for things - let's do it all, or let's get rid of it all, which would be the best thing," he said.

He said he thought the idea of having an individual business banner on the poles was a good one, but he wouldn't expect the utility companies to negotiate with him.

"I'm excluded from breaking the sign ordinance - like the Chamber is allowed to," he said.

LOSE THE ORDINANCE?

Selectboard Chairman Don Bennett discussed Whitney's concerns in the context of the work done in recent years on the ordinance by the ORC.

Bennett said that panel has generally tried to "feather out" the ordinance in order to better evaluate the severity of any infractions, "so that on a scale of 1-10, what's

THS students attend BLOOM marine research program

By AMY WIGHT CHAPMAN

"I decided that I get these opportunities once in a lifetime, and if I don't take it, it's an opportunity wasted," said Kellen True.

True and Elijah Laird, both members of Telstar High School's class of 2017, recently attended the Keller BLOOM (Bigelow Laboratory Orders of Magnitude) Program, a six-day immersive program in which participants work alongside professional researchers to explore the marine environment of the Maine coast through field and laboratory work.

Sixteen high school juniors from around the state of Maine are selected to attend the program in East Boothbay each year, based on an application that includes their high school transcript, two letters of recommendation, and an essay.

When Laird first heard about BLOOM from his science teacher, Sarah Southam, "I was dismissive of it because I thought I'd be too busy" to miss a week of school late in his junior year, he said.

He was carrying a demanding academic schedule at Telstar that included AP Chemistry as well as Anatomy and Physiology, and he has set his sights on Dartmouth as his top choice for college.

"A lot of what I do is just trying to be well-balanced, but I definitely really love science," he said.

Making time in his busy schedule to attend BLOOM reinforced that interest.

"It made me realize that I definitely want to be a researcher," Laird said.

"I would even like to start my own research institution, whether marine research or something else. I've always liked the unexplored, whether it's space or the ocean. Research in both of those fields actually requires a similar skill set."

Laird said he is also "very passionate about climate change, and that will influence what I pursue."

Studies program, a partnership between Waynflete School and Chewonki Semester School in which participants spend three weeks exploring Maine's coastal ecosystems.

Earlier this summer, True participated in the Rotary Youth Leadership Award conference for the second year. In the past, he has done trail-building with the Oxford County Conservation Corps and helped to build milfoil-defecting underwater rovers as part of 4-H.

"Science is a great field," he said, although he is not ready to limit his future options.

"I definitely know the field of science is something I could consider, but I feel like there might be another passion out there for me."

True said that while at BLOOM he enjoyed the field work most, including a research cruise on the first day of the program, during which students collected water samples from several locations using a net with microscopic holes and analyzed the type and number of organ-

Sunday River finished with condo management

By ALISON ALOISIO

Sunday River Resort is no longer in the condominium management business, the conclusion to a progression that has been taking place for some time, according to Director of Communications Darcy Lambert.

The resort has been managing some of the condo complexes for their respective Home Owners Associations. But, said Lambert, there have also been "a number of condominiums managed and rented outside of Sunday River for years."

She said that over time some of the Home Owners Associations had left for other management arrangements.

For those that Sunday River continued to manage, there has been change in recent years in another facet of the HOA/SR relationship - renting out condos for the owners.

"Our main reason for transferring the management of condominiums is because the rental side of business had been in steady decline for us for years," said Lambert. "A decade ago there were 500 condominiums rented through Sunday River. Last year we only rented about 100 condominiums."

She said owners have simply been choosing, more often than not, not to rent their units.

"The times that we've seen condos disappear from the rental pool, it's been because the ownership has changed hands, the new owner has renovated the condo, and decided to use it for themselves and not as a rentals."

Lambert described how the resort came to its decision, and what the process in implementing it involved.

"With the decrease the rental inventory available to us and challenges we faced in keeping properties whose quality met our standards, it made less sense for us to continue offering rental management and property management services," she said. "Leading up to this transition

HELP, MOM, I'M STUCK-This baby bird found himself in a bit of a predicament recently when he left the nest to practice flying for the first time. After repeatedly launching himself into the air a foot or two before dropping back to the ground, he managed to fly/climb to a perch on a fence cross piece. His only problem - he was facing the wrong way. After some maneuvering he got himself turned around and resumed his test flights. All the while his mother continued to bring him bugs to eat. As the day wore on, the flights got longer, and the next day he had vanished, hopefully into the sky and trees. A. Aloisio

VETERANS PARK DESIGN

To the Editor:

I have an opinion different than that cited by Stan Howe in last week's "Citizen," and here's why. In this day and age when only a small percentage of Americans serve on active duty in our military services, I think it is important for our younger generation to have a visual representation of who and how many of our citizens have served and helped preserve the freedoms we all cherish. Mainers, including many from Bethel and surrounding communities, have typically served on active duty in a greater percentage of the overall state populations than in nearly all other states. What better way is there for our younger generations to learn a little more of American history than a depiction of the conflicts which have helped shape this nation and the local heroes who contributed so much. This could also help fill a huge gap in what is being taught in school these days about American history.

It is for these reasons that I support a design that includes stone tablets, of the same type of granite as that in the current Civil War Monument. These tablets would list all the names (that we can identify) listed so as to include the war or conflict they served in from the Revolutionary War to the present time, with space reserved to add additional names in future conflicts. The precise design is still being worked out. Proposals before the committee include a flag pole for the American flag in a prominent position, along with stone or concrete walkways to permit easy access to handicapped persons wanting to study the names on the tablets. Also under discussion is the idea of offering granite paving stones and benches dedicated to specific veterans as a fundraising effort to help pay for the project. We already have a few granite paving stones which were purchased while the proposed veterans park was going to be located in front of the fire station.

It seems to me that paving stones can be an unobtrusive and aesthetically pleasing way for paying tribute to loved ones or other veterans they wish to honor. These stones could be used to form part or perhaps all of the walkways. This is also potentially a powerful fund raising opportunity.

MOLLYOCKETT DAY THANKS

To the Editor:

MollyOckett Day takes a lot of chipping in from people, businesses, and organizations of all kinds to make it a success, and we want to thank all those who did.

Volunteers who helped out the chamber in some way included Sonia Albin, Richard Cary, Anita Clark, Carole DeDuca, Barb & Bob Dion, Laurie Gilbert, Sara Hemeon, Maggie Kroenke, Rosemary Laban, Phil McCrillis, Lizz Peacock, Gabe Perkins, Sally Sawyer, Dave Scanlan, Barbara Schneider, Savannah Sessions, Lloyd Sweetser, Dean Walker, Brad Wight, and the unnamed helpful people who packed up tables and chairs after a long day. The Bethel Outing Club and its volunteers deserve a special shout-out for organizing a successful series of road races.

Thanks to the many members of the business community who supported the event. The Presenting Sponsor was Mahoosuc Realty & RENT Bethel, with further support provided by Oxford Casino, Rotary Club of Bethel, TransCanada, Pepsi Beverages Co., Nadeau Development, Community Energy, Franklin Savings Bank, Northeast Bank. Many others supported the printing of the program and the schedule in the Bethel Citizen. The fireworks are always a favorite tradition and they were sponsored by Atlas Fireworks, the towns of Bethel, Newry, Greenwood, and Woodstock, and many individuals and businesses: Pooh Corner Farm & Greenhouses, Sunday River Rentals, Good Food Store & Catering Co., Smokin' Good BBQ, Inn at the Rostay, Mountain House on Sunday River, Doug Zinchuk Roofing, and Tim & Nina Chan.

The Maine Mineral & Gem Museum sponsored the annual MollyOckett Essay Challenge, which was won by Kim Drew of Gould Academy and Elijah Laird of Telstar High School. Thanks to the coordinators, judges, and teachers who helped with this effort to honor local students learning about the history of MollyOckett.

Dunkin' Donuts provided essential early-morning nourishment to vendors and volunteers; Dave Duguay led the parade in his classic car; Arla Patch provided the beautiful artwork, and there are countless others who volunteered for their own organizations as they entered the parade, coordinated a booth, or held an event in conjunction with the big day - so thanks to them, too.

We hope to see you in 2017, when MollyOckett Day celebrates its 60th anniversary!

BICENTENNIAL VENDOR BOOTHS AVAILABLE

To the Editor:

Attention artisans and crafters. Several vendor booths are still available for the Greenwood Bicentennial Festival, Aug. 12-14. Table and booths will be along the Main St. (Rt. 26) of Locke's Mills, and this is a high traffic area with even more people in town for this event. A great place to sell your work to tourists, summer visitors, and local residents.

The fee is only $25. For information and to register for a booth, please contact Janet Bartlett at 357-6494. Janet is co-ordinating the Main St. vendors. You can also go to the Greenwood website to "Bicentennial" and download the vendor application.

Of course, you can also check out the wide variety of events for the bicentennial. You only turn 200 once!

From the Bethel Town Manager's Office

By Christine M. Landes

As always, it is my pleasure to provide this bi-weekly column for the citizens of Bethel.

Last week the 15 member towns of Oxford County Regional Recycling (OCRR) were invited to convene and discuss the possible dissolution of the organization. Twelve member towns were present (the minimum required for a vote toward the process of disbanding) and after a lengthy discussion, voted in the affirmative to start the process. In September, the new Executive Officers will meet to determine the steps moving forward. As early as November, each of the member towns will present the question of dissolution in written ballot form and the total votes from all towns needs to be 2/3 in favor of dissolving. With a positive vote, it is anticipated that the organization will be dissolved by July 1, 2017. The Town of Bethel will gain 12.34 percent of the cash and fixed assets when the process is completed. As of 4/30/16, this amount is estimated at approximately $54,100.00. Stay tuned for more updates.

Fall 2016 Oxford Hills Athletic Boosters soccer registration is now open. This league is for 1st - 6th grade players. The Town Office will not be accepting registrations, but athletes are able to sign up at oxfordhillsathleticboosters.com. All home games will be played in Waterford. There will be no games in Bethel. The registration period ends Aug. 26. As fall approaches, the Bethel Recreation Department will sponsor a separate kindergarten program. Information on this program will be announced at a later date.

The Bethel Board of Selectmen have voted to change the fee for disposal of mattresses at the Transfer Station. A tri-town resident (Bethel, Newry, and Hanover) will no longer have to pay $7 to dispose of a mattress. This cost will be absorbed by the tax base. Commercial businesses choosing to dispose of mattresses, will continue to pay the $7 per mattress fee. Please contact the Town Office if you need further clarification.

As a reminder, the Town Office still has the combination Funtown/Splashtown tickets available. At a cost of $28 each, payment must be in the form of cash or card; sorry no checks are accepted. What a great way to spend a day with the family before the summer winds down and the kids are back at school!

If there is anything I, or the employees of the town can do for you, please do not hesitate to contact us. We are here for you.

Notes from the State House

By Rep. Fran Head

I would like to thank you for allowing me to represent your interests in the 127th Maine State Legislature. The most important responsibility of serving on your behalf is to keep all of my constituents informed of the work we are doing to make Maine an even better place to live.

Some of the most important accomplishments, all of which were supported by members of both parties, are outlined below;

HONORING MAINE'S VETERANS

LD 1612: "An Act To Implement the Recommendations of the Commission To Strengthen and Align the Services Provided to Maine's Veterans Regarding Enhancements to the Bureau of Maine Veterans' Services." I was proud to support tuition waivers for Maine National Guard members who choose to attend a school in the University of Maine System, Maine Community College System, or Maine Maritime Academy. This bill also promotes permanent and stable housing for homeless veterans.

ENACTING REAL WELFARE REFORM

LD 1097: "An Act To Improve the Integrity of Maine's Welfare Programs." After years of fighting for substantive welfare reform this bill implements significant changes to the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, allowing for greater accountability. The Department of Health and Human Services will now prohibit the use of expenditures on tobacco products, liquor and lottery tickets.

PROMOTING BUSINESS ATTRACTION AND RETENTION

LD 1583 "An Act To Provide for Tax Conformity and Funding Methods." Maine will now conform fully to federal tax laws after the recent passage of the PATH Act (Protecting Americans from Tax Hikes Act.) The deal also keeps the Maine Capital Investment Credit in place. These changes encourage businesses to invest and grow in our state which is vital to improving our business climate and bringing good paying jobs to Maine.

ADDRESSING MAINE'S DRUG CRISIS

LD 1537: "An Act To Combat Drug Addiction through Enforcement, Prevention, Treatment and Recovery." I voted in support of funding 10 new positions for drug investigators in the Maine Drug Enforcement Agency, who will work against out of state drug traffickers.

SECURING FUNDS FOR EDUCATION

LD 1641 "An Act To Establish a Commission To Reform Public Education Funding and Improve Student Performance in Maine..." I voted to allocate an additional $15 million for school funding, which is on top of the $83 million increase from the biennial budget. We will also launch a blue ribbon commission to reform public education and improve student performance in Maine.

INVESTING IN PUBLIC SAFETY

LD 1523: "Resolve, To Provide Wage Parity for Supervisors of Law Enforcement Personnel." This bill will provide pay increases for Maine State Troopers, Maine Game Wardens and Maine Marine Patrol.

SAFEGUARDING OUR TAX PAYER DOLLARS

In order to build Maine's rainy day fund, I advocated to direct an additional $65 million dollars to the Budget Stabilization Fund, bringing our total to almost $200 million. Increasing our reserve funds will prove to be financially responsible for years to come.

I will continue to offer constituent services throughout the summer and fall, so please don't hesitate to contact me through email at Frances.Head@Legislature.Maine.Gov. I encourage you to contact me at any time with your questions and concerns; after all, it is through your input that I will best be able to represent the extraordinary people who call Western Maine "home."

Best wishes for your summer.

ROAD RACE THANKS

To the Editor:

Saturday morning proved to be a beautiful day for the MollyOckett Day Classic Road Races. Between the 1 mile kids' race, the 1 mile adult race, the 5 mile race, and the di-aper dash, there were 137 competitors. The Bethel Outing Club hosted the race and since a goal of the BOC is to promote enjoyment of outdoor endurance sports like run-ning, the members were excited to have such a good turn out for the races. It is such a healthy way to start out MollyOckett Day!

We would like especially to thank our sponsors who helped make putting on the race possible. DuraLife, Stephens Memorial Hospital, Bethel Family Health Center, and River Valley Healthy Communities were the major sponsors who backed us financial-ly this year. Also, many local businesses donated wonderful prizes for racers who won in their age groups. These businesses include Mt. Abram Ski Area, Nabos, S.S. Milton, Cho Sun, Pat's Pizza, True North Adventureware, Sudbury Inn and Suds Pub, Maine Line Products, Philbrook Place Toys and Trendz and Community Sports, Bethel Bait Tackle and More, Crossroads Diner, The Hitching Post Diner, The Local Hub, DiCo-coa's Market and Bakery, and The Gem Theater - Movies and Art Space.

The MollyOckett Day races require tremendous volunteer help. A big thanks to the following volunteers: Amy, Fred, Ricco and Jaxen Call; Norman and Isaac Green-berg; Fred Bailey, Anne Marie Mahar, Christine Trefethen and Sophie List; Mad-die Williams; Sarah, Sam and Lily Weafer; Leslie Rowse and Gary Inman; Suzanne, Bruce, Hannah and Reese Newsom-Pierce; Saranne Taylor and Jeff Newsom; Beth and Livy Clarke; Dave, Utah, and Lilo Bean; David and Kyler Walker and Nancy Bab-cock; Chris Barstow; Kelly and Zach Stone; Peter Southam; Caitlin Casey; Emily and Kristi Hanscom; Carla, Gaelen, and Eric Boyle-Wight; Eileen and Marta Opie; Elis-sa Lufkin and Duncan Forbes; Jenny Wilbraham; Diana Petrakos; Doug Alford; Ann Speth and Carlise Casey. A huge thanks goes out to Julia Reuter, Robin Zinchuk, and Jessie Perkins at the Bethel Area Chamber for their tremendous help with race orga-nization and supplies. Thank you to the Bethel Inn for the use of its lawn space, Out-ward Bound for the use of its tables and to Ian and Laura Blair for their driveway as a water stop. We are incredibly appreciative of Oxford County Police and Bethel Am-bulance Service's help during the races. Thank you also to Bob and Lisa Arsenault for doing a great job timing the races.

2016 MollyOckett Day Race t-shirts are still available, beautiful artwork by Arla Patch! Purchase them for $10 at the Chamber of Commerce, behind The Gem. All pro-ceeds from the event go to the Bethel Outing Club to support cross-country ski pro-grams and events in the local schools and the greater Bethel community. Thank you for a great day of running.

Monday evenings in the summer, join the Bethel Outing Club for an informal time trial running/mountain biking series. Meet at Gould Academy's Pine Hill Trails, 51 Grover Hill Road, at 5:30pm. The BOC will also be hosting the Maine State Kids' Tri-athlon on Saturday, August 6th. For more information on the Bethel Outing Club and the activities the club sponsors, check our website, www.bethelouting.org, and like us on Facebook.

Greenwood selectmen's meeting minutes

Town of Greenwood
Selectboard meeting
June 21, 2016

1. Open Meeting - Chair Henderson called the meeting to order at 5 p.m. with Selectman Arnold Jordan, Selectman Amy Chapman, Town Man-ager Kimberly Sparks, and Deputy Clerk Angela Lovejoy in attendance.

2. Pledge of Allegiance - Recited the Pledge of Al-le-giance.

3. Warrants - It was motioned and second-ed to accept Warrant #51 ($65,414.57), and Warrant #52 ($19159.08). Motion passed 3-0.

4. Minutes - It was mo-tioned and seconded to ac-cept the minutes of June 7, 2016 as written. Motion passed 3-0.

5. Comments from the Public - All were at the meeting for a specific agenda item. Selectman Jordan mentioned that Dale Crockett talked to him about the swap shop at the Transfer Station. He said Crockett did not want the shop relocated to the old office building because it was too small and he still used the build-ing. Jordan said he agreed on the size issue and he said there would be a lot of things to move as well. Chair Henderson suggest-ed the building could be added on to. Selectman Chapman said she agreed the building was small but if the shop was well run it might not matter.

6. Local Road Assistance Program Certification - The Board reviewed and signed the document.

7. Oxford County Region-al Recycling - Town Man-ager Sparks mentioned she received a letter from Steve Bies stating the Ox-ford County Regional Rec-ycling Board was pur-suing the dissolution of the organization. Hender-son agreed to still be the Town's representa-tive until that happened. Selectman Chapman mo-tioned and Selectman Jordan seconded to nominate Fred Henderson to the Ox-ford County Regional Rec-ycling Board. Motion passed 2-0.

8. Request to Have Local Food Ordinance - Town Manager Sparks men-tioned that Susan Dun-ham and one other person had requested the Board look over a Local Food Or-dinance for Greenwood. Sparks passed out copies of what was suggested.

She said she would invite Dunham to a Selectboard meeting to discuss the thought.

9. Wind Towers - Town Manager Sparks said she had received emails from residents concerned about wind towers being put up in Milton Township. The towers were on an ex-pedited list and nearby res-idents wished to slow down the process until the project could be stud-ied more in depth. Sur-rounding town residents felt like they were com-pletely in the dark about the project. It was men-tioned that, while Milton was relatively small and sparse, it was surround-ed by Towns with many residents. A petition was currently in circulation to lift he "expedited" part of the project process. Long term plan, environ-ment, and decommission-ing were some of the ques-tions residents would like to have answered before the project is started. Se-lectman Chapman men-tioned that it was an in-vestment company that was doing the project in-stead of a wind power company so they probably didn't have the expertise or the people to answer the questions. Attendees of the meeting asked the Board for a letter in sup-port of lifting the expedited process for the project so that any future project could be looked over thor-oughly. Sparks said she would send a letter within the next week. Chapman said the Town had tax-able property that would be affected by the towers - at least visually. There was discussion about the noise from the large wind-mills. Chair Henderson said he had gone to Shagg Pond and found the noise was not terribly loud by it was constant and could be annoying. He said he thought the Board should do what they could to slow down the project so that it could be explored more in depth. It was mentioned that "flicker" as well as noise was a problem from wind mills. Selectman Chapman motioned and Selectman Jordan second-ed to send a letter to the Land Use Commissioner requesting to have Milton removed from the expedited list for windmills. Mo-tion passed 3-0.

10. NIMS Training - Town Manager Sparks said the Board needed re-fresher training (every five years). It was decided that September 7, 2016 at 6 p.m. at the Fire Station worked best at the present time.

11. Age Friendly Com-munity - Town Man-ager Sparks said that Peter Musso asked her to let the Board know that they or-ganization as successful in getting a grant for $3,500 grant for transportation.

12. Paving - Town Man-ager Sparks gave an update on paving and the paving schedule. She said the current worry was about logging on Richardson Hollow Road. She hoped no damage would be done to the fresh tar. Pictures were going to be taken just in case. She said she had one complaint about not paving far enough on Patch Mountain Road. She said the stakes that were put in were well past what was left of the cur-rent pavement. There was discussion about using calcium to keep the dust down.

13. Books at Town Hall - Town Manager Sparks mentioned that Eva Mills had asked about getting some old law books from the Town Hall. It was agreed to see if the books had any value before they were given away.

14. Suggestion from Lou-ise Jonaitis - Town Man-ager Sparks said mill own-er Louise Jonaitis would like to meet with AVCOG and the Selectboard to discuss grants for clean-ing up the mill site. She told Sparks she wished to co-apply with the Town. Sparks said she got the feeling from AVCOG they did not want a meeting unless the mill was being sold or there was, at least, an interested buyer.

15. Meeting and Events - Town Manager Sparks mentioned the following meetings and events:

a.Sat., July 3 - Bethel Art Fair, Kim & Margaret will be selling tshirts

b.Tue., July 5 - Select-men's Mtg & Bicentennial Mtg - 5p.m. GTO

c.Wed., July 6 - Histori-cal Society Program, GTH

"Places of Memory" exhibit at BHS

M. Daigle

By Matthew Daigle
Sun Media

Photography has followed Danna Brown Nickerson since the day she was born.

Her father, Don Brown, attended the New York Institute of Photography after serving in World War II and was a professional photographer in Bethel for the rest of his life.

Her brother is a photographer in the Portland area.

Nickerson may not be professionally trained like her father and brother, but the art of photography has permeated her life.

Nickerson's collection of photographs are being displayed in the Bethel Historical Society's Valentine Gallery at the Robinson House from now until Sept. 30.

It's the inaugural show for the society's revolving series of local contemporary art exhibits.

The exhibit, titled Places of Memory, documents the facets of Bethel, Nickerson said, including the landscape, architecture, and aesthetics.

"I've been taking pictures all my life, but I never had any professional training," Nickerson said. "I just take pictures of things I see for fun. I've been taking pictures of Bethel for quite awhile."

Randall Bennett, executive director of the Bethel Historical Society, said the society was looking to invite locals to exhibit their work to promote local contemporary art.

"It doesn't matter if it's photographs, sculptures, drawings, or paintings," Bennett said. "We're hoping to draw focus to the different artists in our area and the contemporary art they're creating."

Nickerson's collection is the society's first contemporary art exhibit in the Valentine Wing. Bennett said he hopes to have a new artist or group of artists exhibit every few months.

The society didn't have to look far to find an artist for the inaugural show: Nickerson has been a lifelong resident of Bethel and a member of the society for nearly her entire life.

"My parents were very involved in the historical society," Nickerson said. "I'm actually related to the Dr. Moses Mason that the Dr. Moses Mason House is named after."

After graduating from college with a degree in fashion merchandising, she came back to Bethel, gave birth to her daughter, and became a stay-at-home mother until her daughter graduated. After that, she started volunteering at the society and was later hired as office secretary.

"It's a huge part of my life," she said. "I'm a life member."

For Nickerson, displaying her photographs for an audience is a rare occurrence. Before the society exhibit, she had only displayed her work twice: once in the 1970s, with her father and brother at the Bethel Library, and last year at the Mill Hill Inn.

"This is the first time that I've had anything displayed at the historical society," Nickerson said. "It's in a long hallway that makes for a wonderful gallery space."

While having her own exhibit means giving people a chance to see the art she's been creating throughout her life, Nickerson sees the exhibit as more than a window into her artistic process.

"I'm trying to capture the buildings that we have in town right now and make a record of them," Nickerson said. "While going through town, I took pictures of everything, no matter the condition. Some places are kind of sad and starting to fall apart, but I think it's important to record what's here."

She calls Bethel a "very pretty town" that hasn't changed a lot. "It has maintained its peacefulness," she said.

Nickerson's exhibit is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

All of her photos in the exhibit are available for purchase, and a portion of each sale supports BHS programming.

the violation? If it doesn't mean much in the CEO's eyes, then don't go out there and harass anybody about it. If it's something that is pretty egregious, they're being outrageous ... we're going to have to address it. We really haven't had any 10s on the scale.

"If we didn't hear about it from somebody, or it wasn't something that was blatantly on the 9 or the 10 of the scale, there's no one ... telling Jeff they can't stand the way the town looks, so why should we be raising a whole lot of devil over it? We've instructed Jeff to be a kinder, gentler CEO as far as the sign ordinance goes."

Bennett said he hopes in the next year to work through more ordinance issues, "to try to make it work more for businesses."

But, he said, "Ultimately it's going to come down to one business mad at another business, or we have some typical contest back and forth, and somebody is going to force the town and say 'it is written here, you enforce every bit of it.' I believe the town will ultimately say we don't need this. We can't afford lawsuits because we didn't enforce right to the letter of the law everything in there."

"If it comes down to a business forcing the issue one way or the other, then we'll have that fight and I don't know what the outcome will be. I do know that if we argue about it constantly and wind up in lawsuits because somebody didn't take down their particular sign," and the town has to go to court, he said, "then the sign ordinance will probably disappear."

Following the discussion, the board eventually voted on the motion to direct Warden to resume enforcing the ordinance. The vote was 3-2 in favor, with Bennett and Andy Whitney opposed.

On Monday, Warden said he researched the Sign Ordinance from the years prior to the installation of the Chamber banners. A specific one regarding pole signs was not found, he said, but he found a 1994 amendment that did include a restriction on signs on poles.

Robin Zinchuk, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, said Monday that the utility pole banners represent all businesses and, as in other towns with similar banners, are intended to provide a generally welcoming atmosphere.

She added that the current ones will soon be replaced at no charge, because some have been tearing and cracking before the three-year warranty expired.

The design will be the same, she said.

Woodstock board facilitates camp dispute

WOODSTOCK-Woodstock selectmen Tuesday facilitated a discussion between Bryant Pond 4-H Camp Conservation Education Manager Ron Fournier and camp neighbor Jan Kendrick, who has expressed complaints about noise coming from the camp. Topics included a shooting program, which has since been moved to another location not at the camp, and noise from campers swimming at 6:30 a.m. Fournier said he had stopped attempts to resolve issues by e-mail because they were "not productive." Selectman Ron Deegan asked them to start communicating again. "It's everyone's lake," he said. After the discussion Kendrick said she was all right with the situation "as long as they're working on it." In other business Tuesday, selectmen approved a winter sand bid of $13,300 from Richard Tibbetts Trucking Co. for 2,000 cubic yards. The board also approved funds for John Winningham to repair backstops and the grandstand at the town ball field. They also approved an arrangement with Greenwood for each town to donate $500 each to two of four regional softball teams involved in play-off travel.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

I went to the pharmacy, super drug store, whatever you want to call it to pick up a prescription the other day. Have you ever noticed that you don't have to go very far into these stores to buy cigarettes, beer, wine, liquor, candy and high calorie goodies, but you have to walk to the very back of the store to get to the pharmacy? That's a subject for another time, however.

While I was picking up the prescription I decided I needed to pick up a few other things too and one of those things was a jar of Vaseline. I have a few other items in my hands and accidentally dropped the Vaseline. Thank goodness for plastic jars because it sure would have made a mess if it was glass and had shattered.

The jar rolled across the floor and was stopped by the foot of an elderly man. I picked up the jar and thank the gentleman for rescuing the jar before it got too far away. He said "Vaseline is one of the greatest inventions on this earth. I eat a spoonful of it every day and now I'm in my 90s and healthy as a horse."

I didn't know what to say to that other than, "That's great." Then I went on my merry way thinking that eating a spoonful of Vaseline every day or even any day was pretty darn gross. I just couldn't get it out of my mind so when I got home I decided to see what I could find out about the product and if it could be harmful to eat.

I found that Vaseline was created in 1879 by a Brooklyn, New York chemist by the name of Robert Chesebrough with a kerosene business. In the 1800 kerosene was the primary source of fuel for just about anything that needed it, but oil had been discovered to be an even better fuel and was causing Mr. Chesebrough's business to suffer.

There had been an oil boom in Pennsylvania so Chesebrough went there to check it out and see how he could get into that business. While there he found that workers were very frustrated because a jellylike substance was constantly gumming up the oil rigs. He also found that workers, who were always getting scrapes, cuts and burns healed quicker when this jellylike substance got on the injury.

Mr. Chesebrough wasn't able to invest in the oil market, but he did return to Brooklyn with several jars of the substance that was such a frustration to the oil workers. Being a chemist he messed around with it adding other things to it until he got a clear salve. To test his theory that the stuff could aid in healing he would cut, scratch and burn himself then apply his wonder salve to see what would happen. What happened was that injuries healed much quicker where he applied the salve than the ones where he did not. I'm not sure I could be so focused on creating something that I would cut or burn myself to test it, but that may be why I never invented anything.

To make a long story short and I'm sure you have figured out Mr. Chesebrough's wonder salve became Vaseline Petroleum Jelly. And as you all know the ointment is still a big seller and used for many different things. As well as the healing side of Vaseline people found that it was great as a lubricant on machinery, would soften leather and remove stains on furniture. I even read that actresses used to put some on their faces to look like tears when they did a scene where they had to cry and fishermen would put a gob on their lures to catch trout.

Robert Chesebrough was the biggest fan of his own invention and did in fact eat a spoonful of the stuff every day for the rest of his life, which was a healthy and long one. He died in his mid-90's in 1933.

I use Vaseline for a lot of different things in my house and it is a staple in my medicine cabinet. It's great on chapped lips and hands and certainly is good for minor burns, but I simply cannot imagine eating it, but the way I see it, maybe I should add a spoonful to my diet every day. It would certainly keep my innards greased up and at my age that is probably a good thing.

isms in each sample. The BLOOM participants were divided into four groups, each with a different research focus.

True's group concentrated on the pigments and nutrients found in the water and in phytoplankton, while Laird's group focused on zooplankton.

On the last day of the program, each group gave a one-hour presentation of their research for parents and staff.

Both boys said that, while they did not have to do any of their regular Telstar coursework during at BLOOM, they were expected to make it up after they returned.

Laird said he was able to get some work done ahead of time.

Interviewed two weeks after his return from BLOOM, True said, "I've been slowly digging my way out of an avalanche of work."

But both agreed that the experience was well worth it.

"It was an amazing experience," said Laird. "Unforgettable," True agreed. "I'm so glad I went."

Telstar students Kellen True and Elijah Laird recently attended the BLOOM research program at Bigelow Laboratories in East Boothbay. A. Chapman

By DON BENNETT

The Weekend Expos
Having the New England Forest Rally, the Molly Ockett Day parade, the Common filled with displays, vendor tents and Frog Jumping made for a lot of sightseeing attractions. Starting off with Friday morning there was the NE Forest Rally.

At the South Ridge parking area at Sunday River, Friday morning was the "Parc Expose" where if they can make it all 48 cars and drivers line up for their fans to see the cars and chat with the teams. This year 48 teams entered the rally.

Besides the "Expose" there is much, much more. This year Toyota had a special display that included a chance for individuals and couples to try out driving Virtual Reality style. Called the RAV4 Virtual Reality Experience: Throw on the VR goggles and experience the Rally RAV4 in 360 degrees.

Beside the "Parc" the other main attraction is the service area in the upper parking lot. This area is the Emergency Room of the rally teams: All kinds of mechanical crises can happen to these high performance cars - even an emergency engine change during the rally days.

This year's winner was the team of Seamus Burke, well known Irish rallyist, and his co-driver Martin Brady. Sun Journal news said they took home the overall NEFR title for 2016 with a time of 1 hour, 29 minutes and 33.9 seconds. Second place team time was 1 hour and 31 minutes. Burke is from Ireland or is Irish it seems but lives in Georgia. I think I got a photo of his car - the Shamrock - in the Parc lineup. His son Joseph is also a rally racer.

Molly Ockett Day
The Parade, the Common, the frog jumpers

The parade float theme this year was your favorite thing to do. Richard Fraser who is really into old car collecting and restoring drove a 1908 Cadillac in the parade - so Mr. Fraser certainly met the theme requirements. The Eddy School looked like their float people were enjoying the outdoors and the Imagination Farm had some real livestock on their float and where it seemed petting your animals is good for you and your pets. The Edible Bethel group showed they liked gardening and the parade of fire engines must mean they like be-

Notes from the Gilead selectmen's meeting

July 13, 2016

The Board of Selectmen met at 6 p.m. at the Town Office on July 13. Officers present were: Jeremy Morin, Steve McLain, Alfred Leighton; Linsley Chapman Town Clerk/Treasurer/Registrar of Voters; Tax Collector/Admin. Asst., Judy Perrille.

Treasurer Warrants were reviewed. June Wrap-Up Warrant 6A: Vote: Moved and seconded to accept. All three selectmen voted in favor. July Warrant 7: Vote: Moved and seconded to accept. All three selectmen voted in favor. Discussion Regarding: Screened Winter Sand. Result: Selectmen reviewed the request from the road commissioner for purchasing screened winter sand. There was one quote available for 5,000 yards of sand. The Selectmen decided that this should be put out to bid. Motion made was to place an ad in the Bethel Citizen for two weeks. In order to be considered, sealed bids MUST be mailed directly to the Gilead Town Office, 8 Depot Street, Gilead, Maine 04217 or personally hand delivered by the bidder ONLY. Bids must be received at the Town Office prior to the Aug. 10 Selectmen's meeting. The bid would be for 1,500 yards of screened winter sand and the cost of trucking was to be included in the bid. Vote: Moved and seconded to accept. All three selectmen voted in favor.

Discussion Regarding: Old road near Bethel/

ing ready for emergencies. One float had a sign and kids with Check Out our Zip Line but I missed who they represented.

On the Common

The first new tent setup I noticed was my neighbor's, Chandler McGrew Photography. To say that I was lost in the maze of tents and vendors selling things I was not interested in would cover my tour of the common. The other interesting stop I made was to photograph a woman with some kids at the Mineral and Gem Museum's gem sluice. After I had taken one photo without flash I shot another with the flash on - the lady sluicing for her kids looked up quickly to see what happened. The sluice is a popular stop.

Frog Jumping
After walking a line of quilts and women's garb

Gilead town line. Result: The selectmen reviewed the material that Selectman Leighton received from the Bethel Town Office regarding the transfer of land in Bethel to the Luxtons. After much discussion, the selectmen decided to contact a lawyer to have paperwork for Gilead drawn up similar to the Bethel paperwork. The reason for the lawyer was to be sure that the description to be written up of the property was handled correctly.

Discussion Regarding: 2016 Real Estate Tax. Result: Judy Perrille, Tax Collector/Administrative Assistant will contact John E. O'Donnell Associates to set up an appointment with them to review any changes since the 2015 Real Estate Tax Commitment. If possible, the paperwork could be completed for the selectmen to sign at their next meeting on Aug. 10. This would mean that the 2016 tax bills would be ready to be mailed out.

Discussion Regarding: Buildings and Grounds. Result: Since the person hired to do the mowing is no longer able to do so, the selectmen are in the process of replacing him. No applications are necessary at this point, since the previous applicants will be contacted in order of their applications.

The meeting adjourned at 7:10 p.m. Vote: All three selectmen voted in favor.

(Linsley Chapman, Town Clerk/Treasurer, is writer of these notes.)

At 9:11 p.m. Deputy Josh Aylward took a report of a stone computer tablet. The incident was under investigation.

mendation on EverPower's behalf to the Land Use Planning Commission.

The article also had information that EverPower is a Pittsburg, Pa., based company and implied that the size of the wind farm would be of 12 turbines in the Bryant Mountain - Chamberlane Mountain area. Seventeen Milton voters had signed a petition seeking to remove the EverPower project from the expedited process.

An April 1944 Citizen article reported that Milton

Plantation surrenders charter. The 2010 census indicated that the former plantation had a population of 143 people. I could not find a date when it was originally organized. Wikipedia document show that the 1840 population was over 450; in subsequent census years the population was only half that or less.

In the 1944 article it was reported that Miss Clara Jackson, former town clerk had been appointed agent and Ernest Billings will become road agent. The former plantation had a population of 143 people. I could not find a date when it was originally organized. Wikipedia document show that the 1840 population was over 450; in subsequent census years the population was only half that or less.

In the 1944 article it was reported that Miss Clara Jackson, former town clerk had been appointed agent and Ernest Billings will become road agent. The former plantation abutters are Bethel, Woodstock, Rumford and Peru.

Only the northwestern corner triangle of the unorganized township borders Bethel. Route 232 passes through this section. A plastic relief map photo of the Milton/Bethel area shows the geographic situation better than a narrative description. The news page mentioned was published on the Internet by the National Wind Watch.

1980 - Bethel Water District shifts to computer billing

In October 1980 Bethel Water District issued its first quarterly bills prepared by computer. The E.J. Prescott Company, Inc., of Gardiner provided the billing service. Prior to this change Water District billing was done by the town office. The town charged the water district $3,600 for the annual service.

Other changes in the Water District's administration would begin at the same time. Louise Lincoln was hired as a part-time secretary/bookkeeper. During this period all administration would be centered at the Water District's office on Philbrook Street. A telephone answering device was installed to record calls about water service problems or questions if the superintendent was out of the office when the call came in. Richard Enright was the superintendent at the time.

Arrangements were made for water customers to pay bills at Prim's (later Preb's) Pharmacy. This would allow water customers to pay bills in person seven days a week and evenings.

The Water District's computer billing contract was arranged a number of years before local businesses and public agencies had personal computers and in-house billing programs. In the 1990-91 period, the Water District switched to its own billing program using in-house equipment. The condo boom and other developments in the Water District's service area greatly increased the number of customer accounts to be billed since 1980.

I hope everyone is enjoying this great Summer we are having. Did you all go to Bethel proper for Mollycoddle Day? I didn't make it, but was thinking about how much fun it used to be for the kids. They loved the fountain and the bubbles and the adults laughed at the occasional most welcome squirts from the water guns. Let me know what your favorite memories are and call me at 507-1008 or e-mail heinrichcracker@gmail.com.

Jake Swick and family were here visiting for a week. It made Debbie Brown an even happier Mom and grandmother.

Arlene Harrington's sister Charmaine and her friend Carol are here visiting since last Thursday. They are enjoying their girl time together. On July 10, Arlene attended the bridal shower for her granddaughter Heather from Colorado. Arlene stayed with her daughter, Dory, till Tuesday the 12th of July.

Now it is time for the answer to the Trivia: Congress established Independence Day as a holiday in 1870 and in 1938 reaffirmed it as a paid holiday for federal employees. Have a great week.

The Greenwood Historical Society had a booth on the lawn of the Bethel Historical Society's Robinson House on Mollycoddle Day. We distributed copies of the schedule and program for the August 12-14 Bicentennial Celebration, and sold baked goods made from the recipes of great Greenwood cooks of the past, including Diddy Johnson, Elsie Bennett, Phyllis Coolidge, and Nellie Martin.

Will Chapman and Julia Bennett manned the booth throughout the day, with Jim Bennett joining them after his parade duties (marching with the 20th Masonic District). It was great to have Jim there to tell everyone that the molasses crinkles were made from his mother's recipe!

Doreen Johnson baked and packaged up Diddy's blueberry cake and sugar cookies, and when I picked them up at her house, there was one package of cookies missing, and a dollar in its place. It seems Jeff couldn't resist buying a package before they left the house.

Tony was very happy to learn that my friend Donna, who was here visiting for the weekend (and helped out at both the Bethel Library book sale and the GHS booth on Mollycoddle Day), had bought and brought home a few of Nellie Martin's toffee squares. I was given her recipe by Nellie's granddaughter, Sandra Martin Morgan, and I think it's going to become a new favorite in our house.

We sold completely out of baked goods, thanks to Cathy Newell, who came along and bought the last 10 packages at about 2 p.m., enabling us to pack up and go home.

As we gear up to celebrate Greenwood's bicentennial, I've been thinking about what it means to be a "native" or a "non-native," and whether or not it really matters. When it comes to having pride in our town, and volunteering time and energy, whether for the bicentennial or for other town projects and committees, I see similar dedication from those who were born and brought up here, and those who (like me) are "from away."

Although neither Tony nor I are Greenwood natives, our son Will is, having been brought home to Locke's Mills from the hospital when he was less than two days old.

At the Bicentennial Committee's yard sale, I bought a book that is designed for recording your genealogy, as well as family events and stories, to pass down to your kids. Until now, I've had bits and pieces of our genealogical information stored in various files, and I thought it would be a good idea to get it all together in one place.

I plan to fill it in for Will, with information from both Tony's and my side. When I looked through everything I have, I realized that even if his parents aren't Greenwood natives like he is, Will has a pretty impressive local pedigree on both sides.

Tony is a direct descendant of Christopher Bryant, Jr., who was, according to William B. Lapham's 1882 History of Woodstock, the first white child born in the settlement that later became the town of Woodstock.

He's also a direct descendant of Eliphaz Chapman, who is credited with having given the town of Bethel its name in 1796.

On my paternal side, my great-great-grandfather was Abraham Bryant of Bird Hill (who came here from Danville and was not, as far as we know, related to Tony's Bryants), who had 15 children by two wives. The youngest, my great-grandmother Addie Roxy Bryant, was born when he was 65 years old.

My other local lines are Farwells, Twitchells, and Wights, and I'm sure I have many distant cousins around here that I'm not aware of. In fact, Elsie Bonney and I recently discovered that we're cousins, since (I think) Abraham Bryant was her great-great-grandfather, too.

Another file I dug out contains documentation of my line of descent from Peregrine White, who was born aboard the Mayflower while it lay in Cape Cod harbor, the first known English child born to the Pilgrims in America.

He was my eighth great-grandfather, so if I ever wanted to join the Mayflower Society, I guess I could, along with a lot of other people - I read that there are tens of millions of Americans who are descended from the 102 Mayflower passengers.

Have a great week! Call (875-5511) or e-mail (amy.w.chapman@gmail.com) with your news.

The Friday night concert series on the bandstand was well attended and the next one will be on July 29 at 6 p.m. I don't yet know who the featured artists will be, but I'll let you know next week.

Don't forget, tonight, July 21, is the Special Town Meeting with articles important to town business and safety. Article 2 asks the people to give approval to move money from the Land Purchase Account (it's been sitting there for several years) to complete the funds needed for the reval and to help provide for the work needed on the burn pit at the transfer station. The other article concerns repairs necessary to Engine 43 at the Fire Department. Article 2 will have no effect on this year's tax commitment. Please come out and prove a special meeting in July is as important as annual meeting in March.

Akers Bridge (located on Wyman Hill Road) from 10 to 5 ton which means fuel trucks can't go over it and two fuel companies have said they will not deliver which understandably has upset residents in that area. The Selectmen have been working on this over the weekend by contacting an engineer to inspect the bridge and communicating with the County about the possibility of borrowing a temporary bridge. This problem may have been further discussed at the DOT hearing about the Brickett Bridge which took place on Tuesday evening, July 19, but since I'm writing this on Monday morning, my comment on this would be that over the last 40 years we have not had any plans for bridge replacement and that is coming now to haunt us by moving from crisis to crisis. I cite the replacement of the Crockett Bridge as an example and now the Akers Bridge. Bridges are essential to us here in Andover because we have so many brooks and streams, not to mention the Ellis River both East and West. The Andover Public Library is looking for a Trustee unless that position has already been filled. The Summer Reading Program for children Kindergarten through Grade 5 is underway. If you're interested in either please call Janet at 392-4841.

The Andover Olde Home Day Committee will hold their last meeting in preparation for the event on Thursday, July 28 at 6 p.m. in the Town Hall. In view of all the terrible shootings of police in various place, it would seem that Chair-

D.A. Wilson recently installed a temporary bridge over Hutchinson Brook on the Kings Highway in Mason. The bridge will be used for vehicle traffic access while the old stone bridge is removed and a new concrete culvert installed. R. Grover man Leo Camire was psychic in selecting honoring public safety persons, EMTs, Police and Fire as a theme for this year. There will be a number of marching units and color guards from these organizations in the parade. I'm also pleased to say we will have a visit from Smokey the Bear who has been absent from the festivities for a number of years. Thanks to the Forest Service.

Sorry to all that I did not write a column last week. I took a trip to Pennsylvania with family for my cousin's 75th birthday party. It was good to see all the relatives and try to stay caught up on all the newcomers to the family. We took a sightseeing trip into Philadelphia to see the Liberty Bell and other historical sites that the great city had to show. We went in on Sunday morning, which ended up being a great time to go into the city. We found a parking spot relatively easily not far from our destination. I guess it's kind of fun to be a tourist once in a while; we all had fun doing selfies while standing in front of the Liberty Bell.

After taking our piggies for a scenic ride to Livermore on Tuesday, I was able to make part of the district tax reformulation committee meeting. After much discussion and listening to the feelings of the moderator, the committee heard familiar talking points about the pros and cons of the consequences of coming up with a new formula to fund SAD 44. In the end, the committee came to the conclusion that it would propose a change to the funding formula for a portion of the towns' tax requirements. The vote was 9 to 3, with all Woodstock members voting against the motion. I hope that the black bears are finding some natural food sources. That way they can stop pestering the residences of North Newry. The last call I got from Brenda Bartholomew stated that they have been being pestered by a real pain in the butt bear. I did see a few blueberries on top of Mount Will. Hopefully that will move the bears to dine on natural foods that they like and away from people's houses.

That's all for now. Please send news if you have it. I will see you next week.

By ROCKIE GRAHAM

By now you have seen the full moon and are beyond it. I like full moons because they mean that I can see better. In any case, we are getting some of the much needed rain. Some places have hail or even tornados. In any case, as they say, if you do not like the weather, wait a minute and it will change. And it does frequently this time of year. So get out and enjoy it when you can. Many things will happen.

July 27, 7:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. at the Wilkins Community House there is a community breakfast with freshly baked muffins, scrambled egg, pancakes, real Maine maple syrup, bacon, sausage, coffee, orange juice, donuts. Cost is: $8 adults, $4 child sized portion. Free for under 5. Yard sale in the basement.

The following are all happening at Waterford library:

July 27, 11 a.m., Book discussion, "Shotgun Love songs" by Nickolas Butler.

July 28, 6 p.m., movie night, free snacks, Soul surfer, PG Snacks and dinner welcome. Call the library at 583-2050.

Mt. Abram gets 100 percent of energy from renewables

Mt Abram Ski Area derived 100 percent of its energy from renewable sources during 2015, according to a press release. The on-site 803 panel, photovoltaic solar array created 290 MWh for 2015, approximately 80 percent of total usage. The remaining 20 percent was purchased as REC's from Renewable Choice Energy. Mt. Abram joins an elite group of ski areas around the world who are dedicating to combatting climate change by eliminating the use of fossil fuels. "Mt. Abram continues to include environmental stewardship as part of our DNA," said Mt. Abram co-owner Matt Hancock. "Not only have we greatly reduced our annual energy costs, and doing our part to eliminate our dependence on fossil fuels. We invite other ski areas and ski resorts to follow our lead."

The Solar Panel project was installed in 2014, with the assistance of a USDA REAP Grant. Since the installation, Mt. Abram has created over 477 MWh of energy. To track the energy created and learn more about the site specifics, visit <http://bit.ly/MtAbramSolGen>.

The ski area has also switched to a wood pellet boiler system, was the second ski area in the US to install E/V chargers and is the first operation to test and purchase a fleet of airless snow guns, the Ecstick, from NIVIS snowmaking technologies. Mt. Abram has also been working with STOKE Certified to further reduce their carbon footprint and increase their operational efficiencies. "Reducing our energy consumption combined with creating our own energy is part of our brand, business model and one of the keys to our success," said Mt Abram General Manager and Mountain Rider's Alliance Co-founder Dave Scanlan.

Vets' Golf Tournament

Plans are shaping up for the 6th annual Golf Tournament sponsored by the Western Maine Veterans' Advisory Committee (WMVAC), which benefits the Maine Veterans' Home (MVH) in South Paris activity program. This year's tournament will be held on Saturday, Aug. 20, at the Fairlawn Golf Course in Poland.

WMVAC is still accepting players for the tournament and spots are filling up. The fee for registration is $80 per player, and includes 18 holes of golf, a cart, 2 mulligans per player and drawings for a chance to shoot a hole in one for $1,000,000, buffet dinner, and a putting contest which will award cash prizes to the winning players. Other prizes include (2) ½ hour golf lessons at the Norway Country Club, and several pieces of golf equipment.

This year the Air Cannon will award the player closest to the pin on Hole #1 a 7-night stay for 2 at your choice of 3,000 resorts in the US, Caribbean, and other spots. We have many repeat vendors returning this year including Dixon Golf, Air Cannon and Goodwin Chevrolet. A hole in one on hole #2 takes home a new vehicle from Goodwin Chevrolet.

The tournament is slated for Saturday, Aug. 20 with a shotgun start at 9 a.m. The tournament will be presented as a scramble format.

"We are so very thankful for WMVAC and the area sponsors for making this tournament possible. The proceeds from this event make possible a wide array of activities available for our residents. It makes their stay with us even more enjoyable," said MVH Administrator, Joel Dutton.

For more information contact: Tom Guilford, 207-595-0026; E-mail: etguilford@gmail.com; mail registration form to: Tom Guilford, 126 Bolsters Mills Road, Harrison, ME 04040.

The Maine Veterans' Home is home to 90 residents and provides Rehabilitation, Long term care, Dementia care and Assisted Living. Care is available to Veterans, their spouses and widows, as well as Gold Star parents. The facility is one of six located around the state. ## Moore Park Art Show July 31

There will be a lot of clowning around going on at the Moore Park Art Show as part of a full day of live entertainment July 31 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (rain date Aug. 6). Organizers are pleased to partner with the Celebration Barn Theater to present the renowned Matthew R. Wilson at 1 p.m., who will perform excerpts from his original show, The Great One-Man Commedia Epic. With comedy, characters and calamity, Wilson will perform excerpts from his original show, The Great One-Man Commedia Epic. The Washington Post raves: "Take the kids, take the parents; this is refined clowning with an appealingly personable touch."

Wilson has appeared on-screen in film, television, and video and performed in theaters all around the world.

While more than 30 artists and fine crafters are the backbone of this all-ages event, a full day of live performances cap off the show with dance, music, giant puppetry and theater. In addition, other performances will feature: Nevaeh Dance Company at 10AM; Singer-Songwriter Terry Swett at 11AM; Jut Tus Two vocal/guitar duo at noon; Matthew Wilson at 1PM; Circus Olé giant puppets at 2PM and the jam-soul music of The Youngerbloods will close out the show at 3PM.

The Moore Park is located on Route 26 in the heart of the Town of South Paris, Maine. This is a community and pet friendly event for all ages. FMI: www.mooreparkartshow.com.

MAHOOSUC KIDS

Enrichment opportunities for the children in SAD #44

From the Director

By the time you read this column, our MKA Summer Adventure Program will be half over!!

We have had so much fun with our theme weeks of Habitats: the Earth, the Stars, and the Sun. The kids have really enjoyed the field trips to the Gray Wildlife Park, Coos Canyon, and the Southworth Planetarium. We can't wait to go to Popham Beach and play in the tide pools.

On July 11, we welcomed our Summer Quest kids who have enjoyed MKA with some academic support.

Many thanks to Rosemary Laban and all the volunteers at the Bethel Historical Society for welcoming our kids on Thursday mornings. The kids have been really fascinated by the typewriters!! Also, thanks to Paul Mott and the Mahoosuc Land Trust for coming in to do wonderful theme related programs. Thanks to the town of Bethel and the Riverview Resort for working with MKA to provide swim lessons this summer.

We are at capacity and unfortunately for safety reasons had to turn people away. We will in the future try to accommodate everyone.

Enjoy your summer!!

Julie Hart,
MKA Director

Some of the Voyagers enjoy playing in the sand at the Greenwood Beach.

Holden, Alex, and Jasper are thankful for afternoons in the water.

The Pioneers hike every Thursday morning. Here they are at Mt. Will.

Christiana panning for gold at Coos Canyon.

Olivia uses a typewriter at the Historical Society.

The Explorers at the Wildlife Park.

Field trips are exhausting!

WORD FUN

Study the two words on each line to find the ONE letter in the left column that is NOT in the word in the right column. Write the extra letter on the blank space. Then read DOWN to answer this riddle:

WHAT DO SCARECROWS LIKE TO EAT?

ESTHER	THREE	ROBUST	TOURS
BALLET	LABEL	EYELID	YIELD
LESTER	STEEL	SPROUT	POUTS
PINATA	PAINT	TRADER	DATER
SWEDEN	NEEDS	UNITED	TUNED
		INSTEP	PINTS

SCRAMBLERS

Unscramble the letters within each rectangle to form four ordinary words. Then rearrange the boxed letters to form the mystery word, which will complete the gag!

Age-Friendly Community news

Ah, the delights of a home vegetable garden! Peas, salad greens - and tomatoes and beans not far behind. Eating healthfully is even more important as we age. A USDA website (<http://www.choosemyplate.gov/older-adults>) focuses on information and tips for healthy eating. It suggests that we:

Add flavor to foods with spices and herbs instead of salt and look for low-sodium packaged foods.

Add sliced fruits and vegetables to your meals and snacks. Look for pre-sliced fruits and vegetables on sale if slicing and chopping is a challenge.

Ask your doctor to suggest other options if the medications you take affect your appetite or change your desire to eat.

Drink three cups of fat-free or low-fat milk throughout the day. If you cannot tolerate milk try small amounts of yogurt, butter milk, hard cheese or lactose-free foods. Drink water instead of sugary drinks.

Consume foods fortified with vitamin B12, such as fortified cereals.

Not lucky enough to grow your own vegetables? Not to worry. Local farmers will be at the Bethel Farmers' Market Saturday mornings from 9 to 12:30 on the green at Norway Savings Bank. Wednesday afternoon (2 to 5) is Farmers at the Market at Café Di Cocoa's. Tomorrow

(July 22) and alternating Fridays from 4 to 6 p.m. is the Greenwood Farmers Market at the Greenwood Town Hall. And every day you may pick from the planters all along Main Street in Bethel, part of the Edible Bethel program, or pick up surplus produce at Nabos on Main Street. FMI: Nancy Davis (nancydavis.bethel@gmail.com, 381-1110).

Bethel Senior Citizens news

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met July 13 at the Crossstone Restaurant in Woodstock for their meeting and dinner with 37 members present. President Fran Head conducted the meeting, led the salute to the flag and in the singing of "America the Beautiful." Caroline Gould offered a prayer.

Reports were given by Becky Keen and Arlene Lowell.

The door prize was won by Ruth Hazelton and the 50/50 raffle by Nancy Brown.

Next meeting is Aug. 10 at Stony Brook Campground, this is our annual picnic. Members will bring either a salad or dessert to share, hot dogs and hamburgers will be provided. Call Arlene Lowell at 824-2877 before Aug. 1 if you plan to attend.

Aug. 24 is the date for the picnic at Pleasant River Campground, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

After much discussion it was decided to go to Cindy's Dockside Restaurant in Poland for lunch. The bus will leave The Bethel Health Center at 8:30 a.m. The date is Aug. 3. We are in hopes of visiting the Poland Spring Bottling Plant and other places of interest. Non-members are welcome to join the club on this trip, a donation of $5 is suggested to help pay for the bus.

Happy Birthday was sung to those having July birthdays: Luna Akers, Maurice Beaupre, Nancy Mercer and Peg Perham.

Andover Olde Home Days photo contest

The Andover Olde Home Days Photo Contest will be exhibited on Saturday, Aug. 6 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Town Hall. There will be two groups - children 17 and under and adults 18 and older.

The categories are black and white, portrait, landscape, flowers, birds, animals and unique.

Photographs can be submitted at the Andover Town Hall on Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 3 and 4 from 5 to 7 p.m. and Friday, Aug. 5 from 8 to 5 p.m.

If you need to drop off your photos in the Rumford area at another time during the week, call or text Ray at 207-344-5706.

Each photo must have your name, town and category on the back. Please include your age if you are 17 or under.

No professionals please.

Adults and children can submit up to 28 photos, four per category.

Taxidermy show at Sunday River

For the second year the Maine Association of Taxidermist (MAT), a non profit will hold its annual show at Sunday River's Jordan Hotel in Newry.

Dates are Aug. 5 and 6. The show is open to the public from 11 a.m. - 5 p.m. both days. There is no charge; however donations are accepted.

Around one hundred pieces are expected to be on display. Last year there were deer, bear, a few exotic animals, many bird species of ducks, upland birds as well as many fish species (sting-rays). The public may view some amazing taxidermy work, educate themselves, talk to and here stories from the taxidermists.

Past competitors have come from Canada, North Carolina, New York just to name a few.

The shows are intended to educate youth, with some of the best taxidermists in the taxidermy industry.

Last year eight youths that entered pieces, with one taking the most artistic award given for the show.

Last year there were judges and a guest from as far as Alaska, including Russell Knight from the TV show "Mounted in Alaska." Russell will be back again this year.

He will do a business seminar, and also MC for the banquet Saturday evening. He is always willing to talk to people and give out autographs.

Concerts on the Hill

The Concerts on the Hill series continues at the First Baptist Church of Paris on Sunday, July 31 at 3 p.m. The next soloist is Sarah Folsom, soprano from Cincinnati, Ohio. She sang in our series 3 years ago.

The format of this concert will be Americana music from a variety of genres. Some popular composers as well as some new and upcoming composers will be presented. Sarah formerly was trained in opera, but now sings in all genres. There is music in this concert for everyone.

Sarah Folsom is a professional singer and voice teacher in the Cincinnati area. A native of Tallahassee, Fla., Sarah completed her Master's degree in Voice at the prestigious College Conservatory of Music at the University of Cincinnati in 2015 and currently serves on the voice faculty at the Cincinnati Music Academy.

Sarah has extensive performing experience in multiple genres. She has performed operatic and musical theatre roles such as Beth (Little Women), Giannetta (L'elisir d'amore), Mabel (The Pirates of Penzance), Pamina (The Magic Flute), Mrs. Nordstrom (A Little Night Music), Maria (West Side Story), and Eliza Doolittle (My Fair Lady). Sarah's concert work as a soprano soloist encompasses performances of Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb, Stravinsky's Les Noces, Bach's B Minor Mass, Mozart's Mass in C, and Handel's beloved Messiah. Sarah has also performed in theatrical plays, most recently appearing in the Cincinnati Fringe Festival production of Reflections.

The recipient of numerous awards in performance and music research, Sarah has received the Tallahassee Music Guild's Harsanyi Award, Florida State University's John P. Spratt Award, and four consecutive first place prizes at the National Association of Teachers of Singing Competition. Sarah continues to establish herself as an active recitalist and professional musician, presenting solo programs across the country and performing regularly in professional ensembles throughout the Tri-State area.

Tickets cost $15/person and will be available at the door. The concert will be at the First Baptist Church of Paris, located at 500 Paris Hill Road in South Paris.

For more information, please contact Mary Beth Caffey at 754-7970 or mbcaffey@aol.com.

Western Maine Art Group reception

The Western Maine Art Group continues its summer season with a First Friday Reception Aug. 5 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Main Street Gallery, 426 Main Street. The gallery will be exhibiting the work of fine artists and artisans living and working in Western Maine.

Featured at the Main Street Gallery in August are the collages of Jo Northrop Thomas, Western Maine Art Group's Artist of the Month. Ms. Thomas recently won first prize for painting at the Norway Arts Festival.

In Maine, she has exhibited at Frost Farm Gallery, the Lajos Matolcsy Center, and the Main Street Gallery in Norway, and at McLaughlin Gardens in South Paris.

Please join us at our opening and view the collection of original arts, mosaics, landscapes, figurative paintings, still life paintings, jewelry, and more.

The Main Street Gallery is open Tuesday through Friday from 10 to 4 and Saturday from 10 to 2.

For more information, art classes, demonstrations, and special trips sponsored by the WMAG visit westernmaineartgroup.org and Facebook, Main Street Gallery. The gallery is free and open to the public.

Obituaries

SIDNEY C. MURPHY

Sidney Charlotte Murphy was born to Benjamin and Marie Greenberg in Boston, Mass. on August 15, 1934. She passed quietly at Stephens Memorial Hospital on July 12, 2016 at 7:34 p.m.

She was a graduate of Revere High School in Massachusetts. Sidney married her husband Frank S. Murphy in 1955 and moved to Bethel, Maine.

Sidney was a long time caregiver and spent numerous years devoted to volunteerism for the Maine Veterans' home where she received many Certificates of Appreciation for her service.

A devoted mother, grandmother and wife her life was filled with caring not only for her immediate family but also for those many others who had transitioned to the Maine Veterans' Home in South Paris, Maine.

Sidney was pre-deceased by her husband Frank S. Murphy, her sons Michael Anthony and Danny Paul Murphy, brothers Frank and Paul Greenberg and sister Rose Armstrong.

Her caring attitude, sense of community and sense of humor touched everyone she knew.

Survivors include her son Dean and his wife Victoria Murphy of Montezuma, Costa Rica, her brother Earle Greenberg of Virginia and grandchildren Chandra Bailey of Portland, Maine and August Murphy of Phoenix, Ariz. She also has numerous nieces and nephews.

Anyone caring to make a donation on her behalf may do so for her grand daughter, August Linda Murphy at New Lungs for August <https://www.gofundme.com/newlungs-foraugust>.

Announcement for a memorial service will be forthcoming.

ELIZABETH BARNES

Elizabeth "Liz" (Waldron) Barnes of Reading, formerly of Bethel, Lewiston and Jay, passed away July 17, 2016.

She was the beloved wife of John I. Barnes and cherished sister of Trudi W. LaPlante and her husband David of East Millinocket, and Richard Waldron, Jr. and his wife Sherry of Parsonsfield, Maine. She was the loving aunt of Sarah Waldron of North Conway, N.H. and Carl W. Waldron and his wife Sara of Auburn. She was the loving grandaunt of Amelie Waldron of North Conway, N.H. She is also survived by her "Special Sisters" Louise and Randi.

A funeral service will take place Thursday, July 21 at the Old South United Methodist Church 6 Salem Street, Reading, Mass. at 12 noon. Burial to follow at Charles Lawn Cemetery, Reading.

Visiting hours will be held prior to the funeral at the Douglass, Edgerley and Bessom Funeral Home, 25 Sanborn Street (corner of Woburn Street) from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

A service will be performed by the members of Priscilla Chapter No. 52 O.E.S. at 11.

In lieu of flowers contributions may be made in Elizabeth's memory to the Relay for Life Cancer Walk c/o Trudi LaPlante 37 Maple Street, East Millinocket, Maine 04430 or the Winchester Hospital Oncology Dept. 620 Washington Street, Winchester, Mass. 01890.

Sweden Days 2016 celebration

Sweden will celebrate its 203rd birthday Aug. 4-7 with a variety of family-friendly indoor and outdoor activities. All events are open to the public and everyone is welcome to attend.

The Bennett Memorial Hike up Sabbattus Mountain, in honor of beloved Sweden resident Charlie Bennett, will take place on Thursday, Aug. 4. Anyone wishing to participate should meet at the Sweden Town Meeting Hall, 144 Bridgton Road (Route 93) in Sweden at 8 a.m. to carpool to the mountain trail. For more information, please call Lynn Hopkins at 301-526-6148.

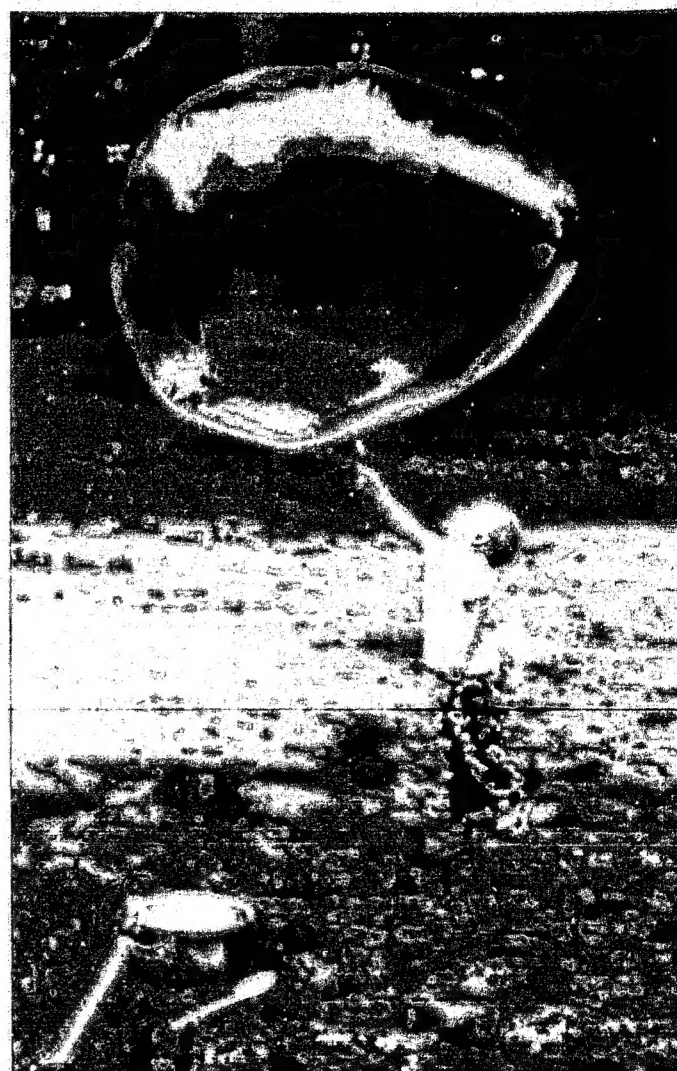

Later and also at the Town Hall, the Keyes Pond Environmental Protection Association will hold its annual meeting and potluck supper at 6 p.m.

The annual town talent show is scheduled for 7 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 5, featuring performances and entertainment by Sweden's most talented residents.

On Saturday, Aug. 6, at 10 a.m., meet local explorers Peter Samuelson and David Sears at the Sweden Town Hall and join them on a four-mile round trip walk along an old, disused town road to the abandoned Goshen Neighborhood. Come along and discover this little known part of Sweden and learn what happened to those who once lived there. In the evening of the same day, sit down for a pot luck supper at 6:00 p.m. at the Town Hall and stay on for a contra dance with live music by "Birds on a Wire" and live calling and teaching by Kathryn Lawson.

Summertime worship services will be held at the Sweden Community Church (across the road from the Town Hall on Route 93) at 11:30 a.m. on Sunday, Aug. 7. For the final event of the Sweden Days celebration, at 2 p.m. on Sunday, local historian Janet Mahannah will lead a guided tour through the town's Stevens Cemetery and explore the fascinating, often poignant, lives of those who are memorialized there. Meet at 2 p.m. at the Town Hall to drive/carpool over to the cemetery.

For more information on Sweden Days activities and other town events, go to www.SwedenHistoricalSociety.org or www.facebook.com/SwedenHistoricalSociety.

BUBBLE MASTER—Two-year-old Wyatte Thompson, son of Angie Lovejoy of Bethel, recently tried his hand at crafting bubbles and was hugely successful.

News from the West Paris Historical Society

We would like to thank last month's guest, Walter Bannon, for a great meeting on old glass and bottles. Sullivan really enjoyed it most of all.

If you haven't bought your calendar yet you better call Betty Jones at 674-2507 and she will send her helper out to sell you one or more.

You can't win if you don't buy.
